WHEAT INSURANCE PLAN IS OFFERED TO FARMERS

September 15th Final Day Contract Will Be Accepted

For the first time, U. S. Department of Agriculture all-risk wheat crop insurance is available for a three-year period. When a grower insures his 1943 crop he automatically insures his 1944 and 1945 crops.

The insurance is available to any person who as a landlord, owner, operator, tenant or sharecropper has a share in a wheat crop, says S. K. Cassell, AAA executive.

The contract automatically covers all units in which the applicant has an interest at the time of signing. Protection begins at the time of seeding and ends upon whichever is earlier, October 31, normal yield is assured against all unavoidable hazards.

Virginia farmers may obtain insurance between now and September 15. If insured, payment of the premium will be made in annual installments with no immediate cash outlay. Installments are payable in wheat or the cash equivalent, or may be deducted from any indemnity due the insured if he has a loss, or from any payment due through the AAA program, or from a loan made under the wheat loan program.
